FIRST CANADIAN NATIONAL LAND AND APPLE EXHIBIT

Intense Interest is Being Taken in It All Throughout the Dominion—Will be Held in Winnipeg Next October—Railroads to Make Rates.

Mr. J. Bruce Walker, Commissioner of Immigration in Western Canada, who is also Chairman of the Land & Apple Show to be held at Winnipeg October 10-18, states that announcement will soon be made of the passenger and freight rates to apply at the same time. Negotiations with the railroads are now proceeding. The interest taken in this first national Canadian Land and Apple Show has been keen throughout the Dominion. The Show is not a private enterprise, but will be a national exhibition, making profit by it. If a surplus is carried it will be devoted to the establishment of scholarships in provincial Agricultural Colleges. Communications received at headquarters from the fruit districts of the United States, Provinces, from Quebec, Ontario, and British Columbia, prove that these countries are keen to make a display, especially of their apples. The prize provinces are quickly developing into one of their biggest markets, and far east and far west will each strive to prove at this Land and Apple Show its special fitness to supply this market.

HER LITTLE GIRL WAS SO BAD WITH DIARRHOEA

She Passed Nothing But a Thickish Blood.

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

Cured Her in Four or Five Days.

MRS. WILETT, LINDSAY, ONT., writes: "My little girl had Diarrhoea so bad that nothing would stop it. In fact she got so bad she passed nothing but a thickish blood. I even stopped a berry leaves, but all to no purpose, until a neighbor told me to try Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did, and with such good results that after four or five days she was quite cured again. I would not be without it. I used it when we were in Saskatchewan too, for we could not get on without it out there."

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY has a world wide reputation for the cure of all cases of Bowel Complaints. It has been on the market for over 55 years, so you do not experiment with new and untried remedies when you purchase it. Insist on getting "Dr. Fowler's." It is manufactured by The F. M. Allen Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont., Price, 35c.

WE'VE GOT TO GET A WATER SUPPLY

Operations Will Be Begun at Once to Bring It From the Souris River to Town.

Weyburn, July 12.—Negotiations that have been in progress during the past few weeks between the G. N. P. and the town of Weyburn, for the adequate supply of water to the community, have been successfully and amicably brought to a close, and as a consequence the railroad authorities will commence at once operation on a big scheme for the conservation of water here.

The town has recently acquired the right on the banks of the Souris river, east of the town. These have been relinquished in favor of the company, in return for which the company allows the town to construct a dam on the right bank of the G. N. P. R. west of the town, ensuring a plentiful supply of water for all parties.

VEGREVILLE GETS A SEWER SYSTEM

New Municipal Work is Fast
Nearing Completion—Town
Booming Greatly

Vegreville, Alta., July 12.—Construction on the new municipal sewer system at Vegreville is fast approaching completion. The mains are now being connected, manholes built, and the force of men at work. The automatic trenching machine is greatly facilitating operations.

The Vegreville town company has purchased a second brickyard in the town and has increased the plant considerably. A new power plant has been erected and the equipment is now capable of turning out 15,000 bricks per day. Further enlargements are now contemplated.

A customs office has recently been opened at Vegreville with A. Ross in charge as collector. This will be a great convenience to the residents of the Vegreville district, who have hitherto had their goods in transit detained either at Edmonton or Vernon, and arrangements that have been made of much delay and often unnecessary trouble.

Properly, which could have been bought for from $80 to $100 a foot has since changed hands at $200 per foot. The rise being due largely to the fact that the Vegreville-Calgary line is approaching completion and the recovery and development of natural gas.

NEW COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION.
Swift Current, Sask., July 12.—With the endorsement of the local board of trade the Swift Current commercial club will be the first of its kind in the province, which is expected to be granted at the next session of the legislature. The club's membership is made up of leading business men and new members upwards of 60. Suitable quarters are being arranged for, and among the first important subjects to engage the attention of the new organization will be the development of proper facilities for handling the rapidly growing distributing business of this country through the outlying trade territory.

LUMBER MARKET ACTIVE.

Grand Forks, B.C., July 12.—Lumbermen in the boundary district anticipate a heavy demand for building material as a result of the development of a promising export outlook. Among the present and projected undertakings at Grand Forks are listed a cannery factory, a department store, a moving picture theatre, and railway machine shops and roundhouse, besides new dwellings and business blocks. Definite plans are also being made for the erection of a pulp mill in the near future, or as soon as the necessary financial arrangements can be completed.

FOR MORE CAR SERVICE.

Saskatoon, Sask., July 12.—W. A. Brown, general superintendent of the third western division of the Canadian Northern Railway, while in the city recently, stated that he was looking into the matter of arranging for the volume of car service which would be necessary on account of the location of the Dominion government interior storage elevator here. The team tracks throughout the C.N.R. yards are being augmented, and when the extensions are completed, there will be unloading facilities for three times the number of cars that can be handled at present.

BUMPER YIELD EXPECTED.

Calgary, July 12.—Two weeks of heavy steady rainfall followed by the warm weather, with occasional showers, has given crops in Alberta a most auspicious start. It is expected that a bumper crop of grain will be in advance of last year, and another bumper yield should be harvested in this province this fall.

MILK BUREAU A SUCCESS.

Calgary, July 12.—Calgary's municipal milk bureau, which is now under way, has already proved itself to be a great success and large numbers of mothers are availing themselves of the opportunity to present to get absolutely pure milk for their babies.

The idea at the bottom of the scheme is to do something to prevent high infant mortality in Calgary by enabling parents to get wholesome refrigerated milk for their offspring at moderate prices.

Municipal News

Cromdale Residents Campaign.

Another petition for water and sewer is to be laid before the commissioners by the residents of Cromdale place. A meeting was held last night and a committee appointed to take the matter up with the commissioners today. Fred Lawrence, A. W. Foley and A. Koeremann are the names of the petitioners to urge the necessity for these improvements in Cromdale.

Old Barns Hinted.

The secretary of the school board has notified the commissioners that the rental fee of $720 for the use of the old car barns is being paid to the board. The old barns will therefore be used for one year as a manual training school until a permanent building can be erected for this purpose. The superintendent of the street railway has been notified to that effect.

Deducted from Salary.

On the recommendation of Inspector Buck, the mayor ordered the salary of $16.05 to be deducted from the salary of the medical officer of health. The mayor then added that if it did not suit Dr. Whitehead he could sue the city. The amount is for work done by the engineering department, and dates back to September 15, 1911. Dr. Whitehead objected to the charge and would have settled for half that amount. "It is wasting the time of the collector to continue to call, and I believe the amount should be deducted from the salary of Dr. Whitehead," is the way Inspector Buck's report ends up.

List Contract Awarded.

The contract for printing the 1913 voters' list has been awarded to the Bulletin. The work is to be completed on July 31. The city solicitor will draw up an agreement which will provide for a penalty of $10 a day for every day after that date if the list is not delivered. The price for the list is $100. The price quoted by all three firms was eight cents per name for 500 copies of the list.

Mill Creek Dangerous.

The sanitary condition of Mill Creek is again subject of a letter to the commissioners from the P. Anderson company. The medical officer of health reports that the creek is in a very insanitary state. The odor he reports is largely due to the operation of the bus and bus company which is still using the old bog plant. These premises were to have been vacated on July 1, but they will be used for some time yet. The engineer has been asked to hurry the plans for the sewer in that district and at all times the P. Anderson company will be notified of this action and a suggestion made that they communicate with the P. Burns company direct, with a view to having them take this nuisance.

Contractor Must Pay.

As the result of a kick registered by Superintendent J. H. Murphy with the engineering department, Contractor Murphy will not get all of his money when he completes the installation of the telephone conduits on Sixteenth street, between Jasper and Athabasca avenues. Mr. Alt states that the kick list is being done with teams in such a manner as to destroy the boulevards and cause a great deal of damage to the city. He recommends that the earth should be put in by hand and not by machine. The city engineer has been instructed to hold back sufficient money to provide for the repairs necessary to be made to the city.

Pole Contract Awarded.

The contract for selling the street railway poles has been awarded to W. H. Main, subject to any curtailment which may later be a result of this new building construction. Mr. Main's tender was the lowest received for this work and calls for 6,000 ft. of setting poles to a depth of six feet. Where poles must be set deeper the charge will be 50 cents per additional foot. If the pavement must be broken before excavation work commences the charge will be 75 cents per foot. If the poles are broken where the sidewalk must be broken the additional charge will be 50 cents for each pole.

Fire Halls Held Up.

Two of the proposed new fire halls may not be built this year. The fire chief has informed the commissioners that the Delton and Bonnie Doon halls could be left over until next year without seriously affecting the fire department. He suggests that a double outfit be placed at the south side fire hall and that this would answer the purpose for the present season. The Ingewood and North Edmonton halls cannot be dispensed with and these he recommends should be built this season. The tenders recently received for all four new fire halls are as follows: Delton and Bonnie Doon $10,000; Ingewood $12,000; North Edmonton $12,000. It will mean a saving of $25,000.

Temporary Building Suggested.

The new stores and works building may be held up as a result of the general cutting down of this year's program. The superintendent of this department recommends that a temporary building be abandoned and that a two-story frame building be erected in the place for temporary use. He complains that the department is now losing material daily on account of it being scattered all over the city. The new stores and works building, the contract for which has already been let, calls for an expenditure of $40,000.

Barnhouse on Vacation.

Frank Barnhouse, city treasurer, is on a ten-day holiday trip in Winnipeg, and expects to meet his wife and children, who have been with relatives in Toronto. A. A. Campbell is acting treasurer.

New Furniture Here.

Three carloads of new furniture and fixtures for the civic block have been received this week. It is expected that the central departments will begin to move next week.

The News of "The Bay's" July Clearance and Re- building Sale Has Spread to the Farthest Corners of Northern Alberta

—bringing such a crowd of eager buyers as has seldom, if ever, responded to a similar announcement in the Edmonton papers. This demonstration of public confidence in our word and our merchandise is well merited.

—The character of the house has much to do with the bargains. Prices in themselves, unless backed by goods of known quality, signify little. This store deals in only the finest and most dependable merchandise, which we sell in season and out, at less than others can afford to ask for equal qualities.

—The extensive alteration necessitated by the outgrowth of our present quarters has compelled us to reduce prices on all staple and reasonable things for men, women and children. But our merchandise must be moved out of harm's way—now—regardless of cost. Then, too, the semi-annual clearance bobs up and demands another cut in price—we don't want but very little stock on our inventory sheets. The determined manner in which we have reduced prices shows plainly our attitude.

"To the 'quick-there' belongs the spoils."

Bath Towels at Unusually Low Prices

Main Floor $2.50 UMBRELLAS NOW $1.65

—A great and worth-while saving in men's and women's Umbrellas. Umbrellas that are made to meet the attack of sudden storms with defiance—without going wrong-side-out or splitting up. And that is certainly the kind of shower-protection you are looking for. Made on good strong Paragon Frames with strong steel tube; covered with serviceable Gloria silk. Fold easily and slip into nice silk case. Were $2.50 each—now in this great clearance sale for 1.65.

A Shipment of Hammocks Arrive Just in Time to Receive a Great Cut in Prices

—This shipment of hammocks that has just arrived should have been here two months ago—and we needed them badly at that time. However, the lateness of their arrival here rebounds to your advantage, for they come right at the height of our great sale and receive a big cut in price. All good sized hammocks, in attractive striped patterns with fringed valances, cross stay, head rest and strong iron fasteners.

- Hammocks worth $2.50; now reduced to 1.95
- Hammocks worth $3.75; now reduced to 2.95

TIME TO FORGET

THE BALKAN TROUBLE.

The early consummation of peace in Europe promised in today's dispatches, will be as welcome in Western Canada as in the country more contiguous to the scene of action. What the outbreak of hostilities in the Balkans has cost the west in nervous shock cannot be computed by any standards of finance, but the evidences of it are on every hand. Notwithstanding that every barometer by which the progress and trade of the country could be gauged proves indisputably that the country is in better condition than ever before, there has been disseminated a feeling that somehow or other the progress indicated in the clearing house returns, the customs receipts, the building permits, the immigration figures and the home-ward entries was a phantom and illusory progress. Financial papers have talked of the stringency created by the war until people have grown to harbor the sub-conscious feeling that it was something which would prevent the crops from growing or wipe out the market for wheat and beef. Every postponement of development, such in thousands of instances as would not have merited a moment's attention in a different state of the public mind, has been attributed to the stringency. Cities which offered the very best security under the sun have found themselves unable to raise money on their bonds, railways have found their market shaky and builders have been told that the brick and steel and stone which they were prepared to put into their own buildings were not good security.

That there never for a moment existed a reason, other than a mental one, for the lack of confidence which has found lodgment in the minds of millions of people since the armies of the little fourth-rate principalities of Europe commenced to butcher each other, everyone who applies logic to the situation will be compelled to admit. But the mental attitude, when it seizes a whole people, is an all-compelling force, and the havoc that may be wrought by a wrong mental attitude is incalculable.

So, therefore, it is with joy that Western Canadians, inhabitants of the country which most of all requires confidence for its early and rapid development, will note that the Balkan nations have shot themselves out and that the world will once more get down to its proper financial and commercial stride. In the first half of the current year Edmonton has fared better than any of the other cities of the west, no doubt because of the fact that Edmonton's resources and possibilities were more apparent and that her destiny admitted of no dispute. But, nevertheless, the cessation of the war, with its attendant handicaps upon credits and development, will be welcomed in Edmonton as in every other city and town from the lakes to the Pacific Coast. With a treaty of peace a certainty, western people can now get down to work again and forget that there ever was a Balkan trouble.

BORDEN'S GREAT ANXIETY TO HANDLE THE MONEY

During its brief period of office the Borden government has shown an unflinching determination to enforce the time disgraced system of government by cabinet rather than by parliament, which would alone warrant the people in contemptuously dismissing it from power whenever it dare give them the chance. Its course has been evidently promoted, not merely by a desire for absolute power, but by the desire to obtain absolute control of immense funds, with the clear intention of using them in such a manner as to offset the effect of its record.

Mr. Borden tried to secure a vote of $35,000,000 to buy warships with. He insisted that every cent of that $35,000,000 should be voted to absolute control of the government so that it could be expended by the government without the slightest control by parliament, even though the expenditure had to continue over four of five years, as it would. When on May 15, Mr. W. M. German moved that the $35,000,000 be paid, "Upon appropriation in that behalf being from time to time made by parliament," the Tories and Nationalists united to defeat it. When Mr. Carvell moved that the work done under the proposed act should be by contract awarded upon public tenders, the Tories and Nationalists voted it down. When the senate demanded the cool judgment of the people upon the project, the government refused to take such a risk and abandoned the bill.

The whole course of the Naval Bill made it plain that the Borden-Rogers combination were far more anxious to gain absolute control of the $35,000,000 (and the further funds that would inevitably be needed) than they were to aid Great Britain. Recent revelations of the machinations of the armament trust and the presence of their agents at Ottawa during the debate shows what would have happened had Mr. Borden won.

MORALS AND THE MOVIES.

In Camrose the other day the Swedish church of Alberta passed a resolution condemning moving picture shows as an evil influence. In New York this week there is an international exhibit of the moving picture business which gives some idea of how gigantic is the business which the Swedish church of Alberta has undertaken to frown down. It is stated that three billion six hundred million people attended the moving picture theatres of United States last year and that the receipts at the box offices aggregated not less than three hundred and nineteen million dollars. It is said that eighty millions are invested in the picture business and that two hundred thousand people are engaged, in all capacities, in connection therewith.

In the face of this showing, and in the face of the fact that upon the main streets of every city on this continent and in every civilized land the moving picture houses are occupying the very best locations, it looks as though the Swedish church had undertaken quite a large contract.

As a matter of fact, the moving picture theatres are not an evil influence, as the Camrose resolution intimates. They are an accurate reflection, as the theatre, the pulpit and the press always are, of the standards, the moralities and the conscience of the people of their time. If apt ones among them are pandering to a taste for the sensational in pictures, which, possibly, some are, that is merely an indication that the depraved taste exists. When that class of taste is wiped out, the picture houses which have been dependent upon it will have to change their films to something more acceptable or the sheriff will get them. The church's business is to elevate the morals of the place where cleaner thinking will make sensationalism in the moving picture line unprofitable.

HIGHWAYS AID BILL.

A POLITICAL WEAPON

When the Hon. Mr. Cochrane again introduced the Highways Aid Bill, it contained provisions which gave absolute control of the $1,500,000 voted for this purpose by the government without any control by parliament. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier presented a resolution approving the principle of the bill, but demanding that "The appropriation for that object should be allotted and paid to the governments of the respective provinces in proportion to the population of the said provinces," the Tories and Nationalists rallied behind Mr. Borden and voted it down. When the Senate amended the bill to make it conform to British parliamentary practice, the government abandoned it rather than lose its grip on the money. It was evident Mr. Borden and Mr. Cochrane were more anxious to get absolute control of the $1,500,000 than to help the farmers by the construction of good roads. The electors of South Renfrew and the Hon. Mr. Graham know the reason. The money could and would be used as an effective electioneering agent.

JUST PARAGRAPHS.

The Calgary Albertan has it figured out that the reported intention of the dominion government to buy the Canadian Northern is a "blind" for the purpose of leading the country into a partnership with MacKenzie and Mann in which the country will put up the money and the financiers will own and operate the road. The only difference between this and the previous arrangement is that hereafter the deal was considered finished when the government put up the money.

Speaking about curtailment of city expenditures, no one can deny that the mayor started right at headquarters when he saved the city matter of about $775, the price of one cablegram to the Kleinworts.

Jack Johnson says he will not return to United States; no, sah. Or at least not until the statute for a colored individual of about his general size and make-up.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to announce to the public the new location of our Head Offices at 790 First Street, Edmonton, Alta.

Where We Will Specialize in Fort George Property and the Interior of British Columbia

CARNEY ADDITION

In the Heart of Fort George

Up to the present time the most of the development has taken place on District Lot 937, which lies on the Nechaco River front and adjacent to the railroad property. Central Avenue is already firmly established as the business centre, and here the hotels, retail shops, stores and banks are located. Fraser Avenue divides D. L. 937 from the railroad property, and as a business street bids fair to become second in importance only to Central Avenue, for it extends from the Nechaco River to the Fraser River, and will undoubtedly have steamboat docks at each extremity.

Now, that South Fort George can grow only westward, and that on the proposed plan of the subdivision of the G.T.P. property the important street run into Fraser Avenue at or near Carney, and further that property over a mile farther out than Carney has been subdivided into town lots and is now selling. Considering, then, that Carney is in the direct line of present growth and development of the business section of Fort George, and likewise of South Fort George, and lies adjoining the G.T.P. property, the important streets of which lead to Carney, you will readily see that Carney is the best buying in Fort George today, and your last chance to buy "inside property" direct from the owners at "before the railroad" prices.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY

That the dominion should send troops to the aid of the mother country in the van of a serious war in South Africa was first urged officially by Lieut.-Col. S. Hughes, M. P., who introduced the subject in the Canadian Parliament 14 years ago today. Col. Hughes expressed the opinion that not less than 5,000 Canadians would volunteer for service in case of need. No immediate action was taken, but on the last of the month the House of Commons expressed sympathy "with the efforts of Her Majesty's imperial authorities to obtain for the subjects of Her Majesty in the Transvaal, such measure of justice and political equal rights and liberties."

Soon after the passing of this resolution, concurred in by the leaders of both parties, Col. Hughes sought to raise a regiment for foreign service but in this project dashed with the heat of the militia. Following the outbreak of hostilities in South Africa, in October, Canadian imperialism found its first important military expression when a first contingent played a gallant and heroic part in the war, and their valor was greeted with patriotic enthusiasm all over the country.

On the 12th of July, 1759, a rocket was fired from Wolfe's headquarters at Quebec, as the signal for the batteries at Point Levis to open on the city. The first shots fell short and the French defenders on the battlements cheered in derision. The laughter soon changed to a roar of rage and a rearing of agony when the gunners found their range and began the storm of shot and shell that rained for weeks upon the city.

CENTENARY OF "EXPLORER OF ALIMENTARY CANAL"

St. Julien, France, will celebrate today the centenary of its most distinguished native son, Claude Bernard, the explorer of alimentary canal, and an original investigator into the workings of the liver, tum-tum, pancreas and other organs. Among his notable discoveries, Bernard found that the liver is responsible for many cases of ingrowing growth and supposedly in herent "cussedness." Born in St. Julien, Bernard went to Paris at the age of 21, intending to pursue the study of a vocation, but it escaped him. He then studied medicine, and became the greatest physiologist of his time, upsetting many ancient theories and medical superstitions. He died in 1878, and was the first man of science whose funeral was conducted at public expense.

The College of Lyons, France, will also hold a centenary celebration today in honor of its former dean, the celebrated Franciscan, Bonifacio, who attained an international reputation as an educator and author.

Eloquence of Truth.

Chicago Journal.

Does eloquence, after all, consist chiefly in having wisdom to see the truth, and courage to tell it? It would seem so. No president since Lincoln has issued state papers to be compared in force and eloquence with the few official utterances of Woodrow Wilson. Yet no man ever sat in the White House who gave less head to senescent periods and carefully rounded off phrases. He does not emulate the polish of Garfield, the smooth address of McKinley, nor the pompous-turbulence of Roosevelt.

President Wilson sees clearly and feels strongly; and his earnestness and clarity show in all he says.

The Billing System

Kingsport Standard

If a society or a branch of it is anxious to be represented at an annual or other meeting, we think its anxiety should be shown by its paying all the expenses of the delegates. This would not only be fair, but it would save an infinite amount of trouble. Only those who have had to find accommodation for these visitors know what a difficult and wearying task it is, and how much the feeling against the system is growing among those who are so often called to set under it. Further, it is generally understood that in many cases many delegates are sent not because they are the most desirable in the society's interest, but simply because they are best able to bear the expense.

Unsafe Safety Devices

St. Louis Globe Democrat

A New England railway man said at a luncheon at Boston: "The very same people talk you'd think that there were a thousand safety appliances, any one of which fitted to American trains would abolish accident and loss of life forever. There are, it is true, an abundance of safety devices for trains. These we are testing one by one, and as fast as we can, but very few of them prove, on running trains to do the things they are supposed to do."

"The average safety device, indeed, recalls the widow who applied for outdoor relief. 'Yours is a sad case,' said the charity agent. 'How did you lose your husband, ma'am?' 'He was killed, sir,' answered the widow, 'while testin' a new safety coupler for the P. D. R. railroad.'"

READY-MADE HOME.

Her Father—I wish to marry your daughter, sir.
Her Dad (sternly)—My daughter, sir, will continue under her parental roof.
Her Father—Well, sir, the parental roof looks good to me.

A woman woke her husband during a storm the other night, and said: "I do wish you would stop snoring for I want to hear it thunder."

UNITED FARMERS OF ALBERTA ARE

ROUNDED UP

Dealt With in Report of Secretary to Federation of Labor Convention

ACCUSED OF HAVING INTERESTS TO SERVE

Mr. English Declares that they were Determined to Head Off Union Between the Farmers and Wage Earners.

Medicine Hat, July 12.—Thirty delegates attended the first convention of the Alberta Federation of Labor, which opened here yesterday. J. O. Jones, president, and Glen Stubbs, ex-president of the U. M. W., were present. The first session was called at 9 o'clock by the local president, Frank Hooley, and he was followed by Mayor Spencer, who in turn was followed by President Jones. During the time the credentials committee was at work, the delegates were taken for a trip about the city.

In the evening President Jones presented his report. He dealt with the work that has been carried on during the year touching briefly on the attempt to have the W. F. A. join the federation and the recent legislation passed by the government, particularly the new mine act, and the adoption of the Manitoba Act for the protection of workmen engaged in buildings and excavating.

His report was followed by the report of Secretary English of Calgary. The secretary said that, during the first year the federation had fallen out, largely short of the results looked for, but compared with similar organizations in other provinces there was little to be ashamed of.

The most important setback was encountered in connection with the United Farmers of Alberta.

Secretary English, in his comments upon the treatment accorded the federation delegates at the U. F. A. convention held in Calgary in January and said that it was plain that there was an element within the Farmers' organization who had other interests to serve and who were determined to head off any move to unite the farmers and wage earners along the lines of their common interests.

The matter, he says, would never have been heard of if the delegates had not for one of the delegates who introduced a resolution favoring affiliation. The resolution was attacked and misrepresented in a most unfair way by men who have known better.

The secretary explained that he was fired the platform, but was hounded down by those opposed, whom he classed as political tricksters.

Two W. F. A. locals have since affiliated he said.

Finances was another cause of impeding the forward steps of the federation.

There are at present four trades and trade councils, 14 trade unions and 18 farmers' unions affiliated, making a total of 38 unions with a membership of 4,700, and this, with affiliated councils and lodges, make the membership close to 20,000 men.

In closing he spoke of the desirability of having all railroad men affiliate.

List of Delegates.

The delegates (present and absent) are: The Associated Builders and Structural Iron Workers, 125, Edmonton; Geo. Wilson and Robert Wilson, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, Edmonton, 1325, H. G. Davey.

United Association Journeymen of Plumbers, Gasfitters, Steamfitters, and Helpers, 545, Medicine Hat, Nelson Turner.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, 222, Medicine Hat, Byron Vickarage, John Thompson.

Brotherhood of United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, 876, Edmonton; James Smith, Medicine Hat; Trades and Labor Council, Frank Haley and Byron W. Bellamy.

United Mine Workers, 74, Lethbridge, J. Larsen, J. O. Jones.

Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, Local 662, Medicine Hat, H. G. Palmer and J. C. Porter.

Lethbridge Trades and Labor Council, W. Alfred.

Presbytery, Mines Local, J. W. Chalmers.

The following are the different committees named:

Resolutions: R. Knight, Joe Balfour, Patmore.

Legislation, Rules of Business: By Turner, H. G. Davey.

Officers, Directors: W. Alfred, P. Currie, Frank Haley, J. Wilson.

Authors: Messrs Vickarage, Colter and Foster.

Ways and Means: James Thompson, R. Patterson, J. Larsen, and John Thompson.

KING'S THANKS TO NEW ZEALANDERS

Sends Appreciation of Generosity in Presenting Warship to the Empire.

London, July 12.—The thanks of his Majesty the King for New Zealand's gift of a battle cruiser, the New Zealand, while he has the value of the dominion. His Majesty commands me to take this opportunity of expressing his deep appreciation of the generosity of the Dominion of New Zealand and his appreciation of their generosity.

The King has sent the New Zealand to his Majesty's navy for the defence of the empire, and expresses his gratification that the nation in which a splendid gift is being utilized meets with their approval.

GOING TO CANADA THEY CHEER KING

His Majesty Sees Those about to Seek a New Career Ready to Leave Liverpool.

London, July 12.—The Royal visit to Liverpool yesterday, the King, replying to an address by the Lord Mayor, said: "Liverpool appeals to the imagination as the gateway through which vast numbers travel from this country to the continent of North America, and I am glad to see that many are ready to start a new career in the Dominion of Canada and others to visit that great distant shore, but for a familiar land, the national anthem whose strains stirred such chords of sentiment in their breasts."

The steers of the Empress was crowded, and they sang with full hearts as loyal people leaving the country of their birth, happy not for a foreign, but for a familiar land, the national anthem whose strains stirred such chords of sentiment in their breasts.

ANOTHER WASHINGTON COAL CONCERN SIGNS UP WITH THE MINERS

Some Shareholders are Heavily Interested in the Mine, But Located at Nanaimo

Walter Baelz, general manager, and T. B. Watkins, superintendent, on behalf of the Nanaimo & Superior Coal Mining company, limited, operating in Washington state, have entered into an agreement with the United Mine Workers of America, which gives full recognition to the union and goes into effect on November 1 next. Minehead only development work is being carried on.

In connection with the above it is interesting to note that Mr. von Alvensleben of Vancouver is president of the Issaquah & Superior Coal Mining company, which operates the mine at Nanaimo, where the coal miners are now on strike.

It is also stated on authoritative sources that the company owning the mine has offered to give 40 per cent of the stock in the Nanaimo Coal mine.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING FAVORED IN SCHOOLS

Question Discussed by Ministers Attending Convention at Endeavor Societies

Los Angeles, July 12.—The question "Should religion be taught in the schools?" was answered affirmatively by the conference of ministers attending the 20th International Convention of Christian Endeavor Societies. So was also that as to the teaching of sex hygiene, but the clergy registered it as their opinion that sex knowledge should not be taught pupils by the regular teachers, but by physicians specially appointed for the purpose.

To strengthen the influence of protestantism, it was recommended that the churches join a federation and work in unison.

Dr. Charles C. Shelton, Toronto, advised the compilation of a Bible text book for use in the schools. He spoke vigorously against colleges and high schools teaching sex as a menace to democracy.

Dr. Shelton who undertook to edit a Sunday newspaper, "As Christ Would Do It," declared the press should be used to improve the world and eliminate sources of crime, have more church and religious news and publish religiously inspired editorials and that it would not have to "pad" and "play up" sensational matter.

Dr. Shelton, in the conference and drama, the clergyman in the conference expressed in the opinion that the way to meet the plan was to be possible.

Chicago was chosen for the next biennial session in July 1915. Toronto was at first a strong competitor, while Winnipeg also made strenuous efforts to secure the next convention.

SASKATOON POLICE FIRE ON FLEEING BURGLAR

He Drops His Load Which He Had Taken From a Clothing Store, But He Succumbed in Setting A Fire

Saskatoon, July 12.—A daring burglar, who yesterday afternoon, after an all day session, was committed for trial on a charge of stealing civil supplies and selling them to Sam Simons, a dealer with a Winnipeg police record.

During the evidence City Clerk Bannell swore that Gould had been wood for the city commissioners. Sidney Fourcres told of being instructed by Gould to cut a hole in the wall of the building and pick it up to the junk man.

In the haste the thief left behind him a bundle of goods to the value of $100 which he had intended to take with him. Three dollars in cash was also found in the room of the burglar, and the burglar is still at large.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS GIVEN OUT UNDER THE ACT OF COMPENSATION

Widow Goss Award Because Husband's Death Did Arise as a Result of Occupation of the Dangerous Work

In Vancouver judgment has been given by Judge Thompson in the action brought by the widow of "Miss" Martineau, a factory worker, against the Crown's Nest Pass Coal company.

Mrs. Martineau was seeking compensation under the workmen's compensation act, her husband having been killed by a snowslide while shovelling snow outside of the carpenter shop of the respondents at Coal Creek on the morning of December 30, 1912.

Among the defenses offered by the company was one to the effect that the risk assumed by Martineau was not connected with his regular employment.

Another line of defense was that the widow had not suffered financially, as she had subsequently married the brother of the deceased, who was earning larger wages than her former husband.

His honor, in giving judgment for the widow on all the disputed points, found that the accident did arise out of the man's employment, also that at the time of her husband's decease Mrs. Martineau was dependent upon him.

A third question as to whether an unborn child was a dependent was also decided in the affirmative by the court.

A SUSTAINING DIET

"I think that the day when a remedy has said, 'non propter die'—these days are mostly sustained, and this leads us to say, in the interest of the public, that a sustaining diet is one that is not only healthy, but it makes it much easier to bear the heat, assure refreshing sleep, and will not cause a great deal of sickness at this time of year."

THE GAY WORLD.

Miss Black and Miss Kit Sharpe, two of the young ladies at the Y.W.C.A., are leaving Monday to join the Alpine club, near Lagan.

Mrs. W. J. Treffery is expected in town next week to be the guest of her son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Treffery.

Next Tuesday a lawn social will be held on the grounds of the Albany avenue Methodist church, corner of Twenty-eighth and Albany avenue. A program of music has been provided. There will be refreshments.

Mrs. Dorothy Thibault is the guest of friends in Prince Albert for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Tom Grimley left yesterday for the coast to spend the rest of the summer.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy to Have

(Fibers held in Woman's Trunk.) You who desire to have a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, yet valuable, prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle-remover, mix an ounce of powdered ascorbic acid with a half-gallon of water. Rub the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is effaced. It acts wonderfully on sensitive, delicate skin, and the skin possesses remarkable elasticity and firmness.

To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, mix an ounce of common mercuric iodine with one quart of water. Apply this with a soft brush, twice daily, evening and morning, with soap and water. This will slowly change the underlying surface skin, revealing the younger, clearer, healthier skin beneath. You will know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial regenerator.

SOUP WITH A PAST.
An Englishman went into a restaurant in a New England town and was served for the first course with a delicious unknown to him. So he asked the waiter what it was and the waiter replied:

"It's bean soup, sir."

Upon this the Englishman relined in high dudgeon. "I don't care what it's been," he said, "I want to know what it is."

For Fatima Who Would Fain be a Nice Sylph

Some Rules That May Turn the Trick—But the Sagest Advice to the Plump Sister is Never Get Fat—Exercise Best Preventative of All.

There is not a conversation between women today that does not include something about the horror of too much fat and the various means and methods of getting thin. And yet we fail to see that the number of fat sisters has decreased appreciably.

We have all become fonder, however, with the uncomfortable lady, who has increased her overplus figure to a corset so long and so straight that it is an instrument of the most acute torture. We observe her in her walks abroad, very stiff and uncomfortable. We see her at restaurants, sitting painfully erect, her face a perfect study in discomfort. We can picture to ourselves with what torture she retires to her room at night and takes off her corset, and how she feels.

And here are some of the things which various friends of mine have actually seen me turn the fattest sister into the slimmest sylph.

Standing up for 20 minutes after each meal.

Eating no starchy food and drinking no water with meals.

Going without luncheon.

Walking five miles every day.

Dancing every afternoon for an hour (I rather fancied that).

Eating nothing but fruits and vegetables.

Fasting one day each month. I do.

DRIFTWOOD

The new suffragette skirt has arrived. It was worn by a Mme. Frances, a well-known Parisian modiste who arrived on the steamship Provence, of the French line.

The skirt, as described by a more man who saw it, is loose about the hips, tapering downward and apparently very tight about the ankles. Thanks to a number of folds, however, there is plenty of leeway at the bottom. The feature of the garment which met with the approval of the men who saw it was that it was provided with two spacious pockets.

Mrs. Humbert Diaz, who is said to be the most beautiful woman in Central America, thinks that the women of New York have wonderful poise. She says:

"New York women are wonderful. They are so free, so well poised, so self-sufficient. I believe they are the best dressed women in the world. Paris does not excel them. They wear their clothes so well and have an intangible air of smartness impossible to imitate. In all these things they excel, but when it comes to actual beauty they must yield to one or of their Central American sisters."

"We are quite as up-to-date in the cities of Nicaragua as you are here. All our best shops are Parisian. Our women are splendidly dressed. They no longer go for the latest fashions and recs of old Spain. Instead they have learned to give their type of beauty the correct of subdued modes. Silk is worn almost exclusively."

"I have noticed the women here playing bridge at yesterday's party, in rooms or meeting in restaurants and hotels and sipping tea or drinks. That is unknown to Nicaragua."

"Sometimes we gather at the homes for an afternoon of informal pleasure, but never in public places. We care too much for our homes to leave them for outside amusements."

A TAX ON BABIES.
That is the remedy proposed by Mme. du Morier of Versailles. Mme. du Morier declares that if parents had to pay a tax on babies people would think more carefully before bringing their children into the world, and that it would be one step forward to "better babies."

Stranger as the proposition sounds, this would not be the first tax on babies, for in 1895 there was an actual tax on babies in England. A tax of two shillings had to be paid at the birth of each baby. This fell very heavily upon the parents, for at that time, shilling meant much more than it does today. The mobility, too, felt the burden of the taxes for each baby was taxed according to rank, and the birth of a duke's child added 30 pounds to the revenue.

CARD OF THANKS.
We, the relatives of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roden Case Hooper and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Meredith, desire to express our deep gratitude to all those who have in so many ways shown their kind sympathy for us, in the great sorrow through which we have passed. To do this individually is quite beyond our power and we trust that this acknowledgment will be accepted as a small recognition on our part of the great debt which we feel that we owe. The kind sympathy and help which we have received from all those who have shown us on all hands, and the genuine sympathy which has been shown to us, has touched us deeply, and has been a great comfort to us in our trouble.

To those who have borne the burden of the labor in the search for, and the recovery of the bodies of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roden Case Hooper, our words are quite inadequate to express our feelings, yet from the depths of our hearts we thank you all, and may you ever receive the same kindness and loving sympathy in your hours of sorrow, that you have bestowed upon us.

Project On Foot To Unite All Churches In One Body

Movement Started by Protestant Episcopal Church is Slowly Gaining Ground—Alberta Names on List—World Conference Planned.

The Protestant Episcopal church in October, 1910, appointed a commission to bring about a conference for the consideration of questions as to the faith and order of the Christian church, in the hope that such a conference would promote the cause of Christian unity. This commission invited all Christian communions throughout the world to unite with the Episcopal church in arranging and for conducting such a conference. More than 100 such cooperating commissions have been appointed, including all the leading communions in the United States and the Church of England in England and Canada.

The secretary in a circular recently sent out, says that invitations are now being sent to other leading communions outside the United States as fast as names and addresses of their officers can be obtained.

Less than 25 ministers and laymen at all women in Alberta have been brought together, at least to the extent of enrollment on the list, which is arranged geographically so that those who are interested in Christianity to apply to be placed on the list may attend the names of others in their neighborhood also interested.

The list includes Disciples of Christ, Episcopalians and Catholics. The Executive committee of the commission of the Episcopal church, of which the Rev. W. T. Manning, D.D., Rector of Trinity church, New York, is chairman, has recently issued a circular letter urging such local conferences.

The World Conference may not be held for a number of years, for it will be a long undertaking to get the approval of all the leading communions all over the world, though the project is being received with great cordiality.

Every Man Likes Pie

And every man can eat it without taking a moment's thought about digestion when the pie crust is light, flaky, tender as you can make it with

Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard

This recipe makes perfect pie crust. Try it!

Mix 4 teaspoon salt into 1 cup flour; work in 2 cup Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard, molasses with water, roll in spread with tablespoon of Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard, dredge with flour, roll up jelly roll, pat and roll out, roll up again and cut off enough for lower crust. Roll out remainder for upper crust and when ready for oven put few small dots Silver-Leaf Lard on top.

Shortening that makes good pie crust will make tasty pastry of all kinds. Swift's Silver-Leaf Lard is put up in tight covered, new tin pails. Every one bears the Government inspection stamp guaranteeing the purity and wholesomeness of the lard. Buy a pail.

PRETTY DROCKS FOR THE SUMMER GIRL BY MAY MANTON

THE summer girl never was offered more enticing toilettes than those that have been prepared for the coming season. They really are fascinating both in materials and in styles and, if she is not the prettiest, most attractive picture possible, it will be entirely her own fault.

It is to be a season of cotton and the cotton fabrics are ravishing. White is always dainty and lovely, but there are colors that are exquisite and great many white materials are shown with colored borders that are marvelous in their way. Everything with a crepe finish is fashionable and lace and embroidery of every known sort are to be used as trimming. Silks are offered in exceptionally interesting variety and foulards, what are known as summer silks, crepe de chine, messaline and the various Oriental weaves are all fashionable. Not frequently cotton and silk are combined, for cotton and silk are the materials of all others for summer wear.

In the group are shown typical frocks adapted to young girls and to the small women who find girlish styles becoming. As shown here, the paucier gown is made of silk, the tunic at the extreme right combines embroidered cotton with silk flouncing, while the two other dresses are made of cotton materials, but the models are available for all fashionable fabrics and they can be varied as occasion and need require.

THE simple little bertha dress is made with a two-piece skirt and a plain blouse, but the handkerchief bertha gives it a distinctive touch. In this case, the skirt is trimmed with straight rows of banding only but the trimming could be arranged to give the suggestion of a tunic and, if for any reason the round neck is not liked, a yoke can be added. The sash makes an important feature, for sashes are extensively worn and this one is treated after one of the newest ways. It is made of ribbon in what is known as the Cubist design, simple conventional figures on a plain background.

THE last figure shows one of the tunics with the shorter side lapped over the longer and such are fashionable. It is combined with a bodice that is finished in simple style and it seems especially well adapted to the beautiful bordered cotton crepe, but clever girls will recognize that bordered effects are easy to obtain by trimming and that among bordered fabrics are a great many simple ones that are really beautiful in color. The plaited skirt makes something of a feature of summer fashions and is especially pretty under the tunic, but, as the tunic and blouse are complete in themselves, they can be used over a plain skirt with equal success. The tunic consists of just two pieces that are overlapped at both front and back. The blouse is made in one piece with the sleeves in the kimono style that is found in the very latest models. Girls on the outlook for sash effects will do well to study this one, for the combination of ribbon and roses is in every way distinctive.

THE long drooping paniers are exceedingly smart this season and so also are sleeves sewed to the waist at the long shoulder line. The costume that shows both of these features is an unusually attractive one. In the picture, it is made of a broad crepe over a plain one but one could fancy it developed in foulard or marquisette or any one of a dozen pretty fabrics. It is youthful in effect and it takes the prettiest possible, most graceful lines. The plain skirt is smart, but a good many girls will like a flounce of plaiting over the lower edge and will fill in the panel with lace. The girle with its bow is worthy of notice.

THE frock shown on the next figure consists of the favorite two-piece skirt with an over skirt that gives an apron effect at the front and a sash effect at the back. It is very charming and very dainty. In the illustration, it is made from a cotton voile embroidered in a Bulgarian design and is trimmed with white lace but it is quite easy to fancy silk substituted for the cotton or indeed any fashionable material. For the Casino dance or any similar occasion, the skirt of messaline or charmeuse satin with the overskirt and the blouse drapery of crepe would make a very beautiful effect. For a summer afternoon dress, voile is as good as anything that could be suggested but it is always possible to make foulard or plain voile or any similar material after the same model. Differences in dyes or trimmings will completely transform any frock. This one, as illustrated is pretty and dainty but, made of satin and lace, it would become exceedingly handsome.

FASHION NOTES OF INTEREST.

COLOR seems to make the predominant feature of spring fashions, for there is nothing radically new in cut and style. Very slight drapery continues to make a feature of spring skirts; coats are of modified length and short and are jaunty. For indoor wear, all sorts of beautiful materials are gracefully draped and beautifully trimmed but, radically, the gown is little different from those seen throughout the past season. The very latest news from Paris in announcing the opening of the Maison Bullo asserts that artists of high repute were engaged to design these gowns and that marvellously beautiful fabrics, colors and draperies result. It is even hinted that, under artistic influences, we are to have somewhat wider skirts and really beautiful lines and, strange as this may seem in combination with present effects, we surely shall welcome the change when it comes. To be sure there are beautiful possibilities in fashions as they stand. It is the extremes that are so hopelessly ugly and unrefined; but it is easy to travesty and easy to overdo and, when overdone, they are hopeless. Just now we have the question of color to face and to discuss. We are to wear brilliant hues. If they are rightly handled and used with discretion, they give beautiful results but, in the hands of the unwary, they are a menace. A letter from Paris received today asserts that crushed strawberry is draped with coral color, that pale green may be seen as sash for sky blue, that criss mousseline may be superposed upon pink and that all such effects are smart; but the letter adds that the French have such wonderful taste that the results are never harsh or disagreeable; only audacious. Audacity is piquant, audacity is interesting, but harshness means pain, and it requires the artist to obtain the one without the other. A wonderful costume that makes part of a spring trousseau is made with a skirt of taupe velour de laine with a jacket in the modified Napoleon style of moles in one of the new shades of wine with collar and cuffs of white. It is exquisitely beautiful. Each shade suits the other to perfection but, did either vary a little, the result might easily be only bizarre. Bright colors are fascinating. They always appeal to the sense of the primitive that is inherent in every soul. They are dangerous, nevertheless, and they require skill in handling to give good results.

NO feature of the gowns and the jackets seems more remarkable than the very general use of the kimono sleeves. They are eminently graceful, inherently beautiful and they are the favorites of the really artistic few among designers. That they should have gained so general a hold seems something of a surprise, yet they are here and here in a great many interesting ways. Two gowns that bear each a well known Parisian name give evidence of the prevailing tendency and incidentally show how color is handled at its best. One is of red crepe in what is known as a Jouy design in blue or little flowers suggestive of the cretonne effect. There is a plain full waist cut out to form a V while kimono sleeves are shown. The skirt consists of a somewhat elaborate tunic, rather difficult to describe, but the feature is the color effect. There is a wide girle of black laid in plaits and the tunic is bound with plain red taffeta. The foundation skirt is of black satin and the neck edge of the blouse is outlined with a rather wide full of plaited white net finished with a black velvet bow. The second is a gown of very soft and beautiful crepe in a shade of taupe and its trimming consists of embroidered conventionalized roses. These roses might be inspired by the Cubist idea. They are flat and formless and the color is just an unshaded brilliant red, modified with white and with green leaves. Both the red and the green are vivid but against the taupe they make a good effect. The work itself is interesting for it is raised and gives somewhat the effect of an applied sponge. In reality, it is executed by a special machine but a similar effect could so easily be obtained by using French knots set close together that effects of the kind would not be difficult to obtain at home. Both these gowns and a third one of Gobelin blue silk crepe are made with kimono sleeves. The crepe gown comes from the house of Calot. It is simple in effect and beautiful in line, the plain skirt being gathered at the slightly raised waist line while the bodice is open to reveal a waistcoat of white satin, and this waistcoat is extended on into the skirt to form a wedge-shaped panel. There is a wide girle of black satin that is lifted at the front and finished by a big double, flat bow. A very lovely gown in crepe as Charteuse combines a plain skirt with a jacket on Russian lines and a bodice of one of the dainty, lovely nets that are being so much used for the purpose.

MUSICAL LASSIE TALKS ON DRESS

Miss Grace Hughes Gives Her Opinion of How a Woman Should Select Clothes

"There never was a time when the dress question was so agitated as at the present."

These words were uttered by Grace Hughes, one of the Five Musical Lassies appearing at the Pontreux theatre next week, is one who believes that a dress counts much, and acts accordingly.

"The dress question," she said while conversing in the lobby of the theatre this week, "is getting to be a problem worth of great thought and consideration. Young girls who go upon the street in an immodest condition of dress are just ignorant little creatures who have not intelligence enough to know that a too tight skirt, a too thin blouse, or a too low neck, is a state of undress which brings out pity and contempt of everyone."

"The half-crown woman we see of late, with skirts slit up to the knee, showing shoes and silk stockings, wearing dresses out down almost to the waist band, and who have their thin gowns lined with flesh-colored silk, are positively immoral, or such slaves to fashion that they are moral cowards."

"They do not realize what examples

"The perfection of gowning is simplicity. All beauty of face and form is brought out by subordinating the dress to the personality. Too much material in a gown is often as suggestive as too little. Femininity is enhanced by perfect dressing and masculinized by indifference."

"When a woman makes an attempt to adopt a fashion she should first study herself and what she becomes her, then moderate the fashion to suit her figure and complexion."

KISSING A FILTHY HABIT SAYS DOCTOR

That consumption is carried by promiscuous kissing.

That kissing is dangerous is an opinion that has been held by medical men generally. The only point on which they appear to differ is whether it is a filthy habit.

This question has been reopened by Dr. J. Baird Morton, medical superintendent of the Bury and District Joint Hospital Board, which possesses one of the finest sanatoria in England. Speaking at a consumption exhibit the other day he declared kissing was not only dangerous but filthy.

"There is so much consumption about," he added, "that when a person kisses he or she transfers saliva from the mouth to the other person, and hence it is no wonder that disease is spread so easily with all those filthy habits about."

Other medical men, while condemning the habit, are convinced that the practice, however distasteful to some, never will be given up.

Dr. Morton, another medical officer of health of a quarter of a century's experience, frequently has written reports on infectious diseases, and he holds that kissing is only one of the minor causes of consumption. He thinks milk from tuberculous cattle, ill ventilated houses, the congested areas in the poorer parts of a district, insufficient food and bad conditions of employment are the chief causes.

"At the same time," he added, "kissing is positively dangerous, and transfers diphtheria and infectious scarlet fever. I would not go so far as to say that it is a filthy habit, except, of course, where people have very much decayed teeth. The habit never will be stamped, though kissing on the lips is a habit that most certainly is to be stamped out with health reasons, and it is an interesting sign of the times that several per cent. of those who kiss each other offer their cheeks and not their lips. Sweethearts kiss on the cheek but, of course, no matter what is said, Cupid will have his way."

A THOUGHTFUL HUSBAND.

A very prominent man recently died and shortly after a friend of the family called to console with the widow. He had been a very warm friend of the deceased and as he was about to depart he asked:

Did Will leave you much?

Oh, yes, indeed, responded the widow, nearly every night.

Tables Turned.

A teacher in a local Sunday school desired to reprove a small boy.

"Johnny," she said solemnly, "I am afraid I shall never meet you in the better land."

Johnny put on a look of astonishment. "Why teacher," he asked, "what have you been doing of jaw?"

SCRAP BOOK TODAY

THIS IS A BAD DAY TO WEAR GREEN IN ULSTER

This will be an unlucky day, entirely, to wear green in Ulster, for the twelfth of July is Orangemen's Day, the great festival of the Irish Protestants. While the Orange Order is strong in Canada, and has lodges in most of the large cities of the United States, it is in Ulster that the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne is celebrated with the most zeal. It is likely that today's observance will be the most enthusiastic in years, owing to the heated opposition to home rule. The titled chairman of the League for the Support of Ulster recently predicted that Orangemen will oppose "armed resistance to the tyranny of government," and called upon volunteers to "make ready to stand in the trenches with those who are going to defend our common inheritance."

Orangemen take their name from William III., of Orange, who defeated James II. in the battle of the Boyne in 1690. The religious riots of 1795, in which Catholic opposed Protestant, resulted in the organization of the Orange Lodges by the latter. One of the most notable celebrations of the festival was that held in New York 42 years ago today, when the mortality numbered 56. Montreal and other Canadian cities have also witnessed riotous observances of the day.

NEW ZEALAND'S CAPITALS
New Zealand is greedy in the matter of capitals. It has already four, and yet it is demanding a fifth. The present ones are Auckland, the old original metropolis; Wellington, the present political capital; Dunedin, the commercial capital, founded by the Free Church of Scotland; and Christchurch, the ecclesiastical capital, founded by the Church of England. Wellington is the viceregal and Parliamentary city, but it has suffered severely from fire, earthquake shocks and various other drawbacks; hence the present movement for the construction of an entirely new metropolis on a beautiful central site. New Zealanders might do worse than revert to their first capital, Auckland, intimately associated with the two greatest names in their history, Sir George Grey and Bishop Selwyn—London Standard.

FORT McMURRAY

"THE CITY OF THE NORTH"

LOCATION

At the head of navigation on the mighty Athabasca River, the great transportation highway of the north. Fort McMurray is situated 250 miles north of Edmonton at the junction of the Athabasca and Clearwater Rivers. From Fort McMurray the Athabasca flows unobstructed to navigation for hundreds of miles north, thus bringing into direct, easy and cheap communication, a tremendous territory, rich beyond dreams, in forest, mineral and agricultural wealth.

The business section of this future city will be located on a high, dry, level plateau at the junction of the two rivers, above mentioned, a more ideal site could not have been designed to make to order. A hill rises to the rear of this plateau from the top of which an entrancing view up and down the mighty Athabasca is afforded for a great distance. The top of this hill is level and of considerable area and will be in great demand for choice residential lots.

THIS IS YOUR CHANCE TO PIONEER

to aid and profit in the development of Northern Alberta's Great Resources, not in person, but with your capital, your savings, without risk. The great men of today, the men of millions and captains of industry, are those who have had the foresight, the power to see into the future with a clear vision, unblinded by the prejudice and skepticism of their fellows and the courage to act promptly upon their convictions.

An investment of a few hundred dollars now at this strategic point, in this site of a future Great Industrial City, will bring a golden harvest, a fortune. It's as certain as day follows night. A choice business site selected now will grow into a fortune with the upbuilding of this future giant industrial city of the north.

GAS

Natural Gas in great quantities means cheap power for the hosts of industries which will eventually locate in Fort McMurray.

In boring for oil, great gas flows have been struck from time to time, causing much difficulty to cap.

OIL

No less than eight oil boring machines are already on the ground, capitalized by wealthy syndicates.

Indications all point to a tremendous flow of oil, directly the main oil-bearing sands are reached. Experts prophecy that the Fort McMurray Oil Fields will be the richest the world has ever known.

SALT

Enormous deposits of Salt have been discovered adjoining the townsite of Fort McMurray. Salt refining will prove a profitable industry and the product will find an ever-increasing market with the large American cities upon arrival of railroad transportation.

SWIMMERS PREPARING FOR COMING OUTDOOR SEASON

Probabilities in the Way of Winners During the Coming Summer in Aquatic Events—Old Ones Are Still Good on Speed Strokes

New York, July 12.—Swimmers of the country over have gone into training for the outdoor season, promoters are busy arranging schedules and there is evidence everywhere of such unusual activity that there can be no doubt of the summer competitions proving inside.

The oldest followers of the water sports cannot remember a summer when there was so much interest in the competitive standpoint, and it is doubtful if one could find anywhere else such keen interest in the outcome of a single athletic event to come. At every distance there are half a dozen men likely to be in the lead, the deciding races, and the selecting of a favorite is purely and solely a matter of guesswork.

Doubtless Perry McGilvray of the Illinois A. C. of Chicago will be the best bet at the quarter mile, for he has set a record for the distance which none of his rivals have even approached. Perry, however, is a fairly unknown quantity in open water work, and we have seen too many splendid pool swimmers go to pieces over rough choppy courses to give him the vote without reservation. His climatic A. C. Butler, the 100-yard record holder, for one, is said to have a better rough water stroke, and he certainly has the speed to do wonders, if he can only hold it.

Some Veterans
Then Nicholas Nerich and Jim Reilly of the New York A. C. veteran outdoor competitors, may dispute McGilvray's supremacy. Walter Hansen, an older Mercury, is likely to prove dangerous if the reports of his improvement may be credited, and Harry Heimer of the Illinois A. C. cannot be overlooked for he did excellent water work, and he is used to open water. It's a well balanced and hard row to size up accurately.

At the half and one mile Hansen and Heimer may be eliminated, but there comes in among the probable candidates that Goodwin of the New York A. C. holder of both titles; Harry Hedgcock of the city A. C., a former champion of Denmark, who is reputed good for standard French, and Frank Heath of the Missouri A. C. of St. Louis, believed by veterans to have developed into a distance star of national caliber.

From the chronicles of the past Nerich appears to have the best half mile time to his name. In 1911 he actually swam the course fast enough to lower Daniels' standard mark, and almost through an error of the measurers. As to the mile, Goodwin and Heimer share the record honors, both having established figures for the distance under different conditions. Evidently new times will have to be made to beat this trio, but if we are to believe competent judges more than one of the mentioned swimmers is able to. Health is the logical choice for the ten-mile title, for he captured it last August and is faster than ever, but he has yet to be pitted against the best swimmers or one of the recent products of his own species, and it would not be at all surprising to see his colors lowered.

Any diver will be one of the season's best features, and the intersection contests should afford spectacular entertainment. George Gaudin of Chicago, fresh from his European triumphs, is expected to carry over there his record, and he will not be at all surprised to see his colors lowered.

George Hodgson of Canada, the Olympic star, announced before leaving for England a few weeks ago that he would be back in time for our big events, and his presence will give the final touch to a season which would be a record breaker in every sense of the word.

The general uncertainty felt in regard to all these things, however, is in the district leaders face one another in the supreme tests has aroused keen interest in matters aquatic, and there is no doubt that we are at the threshold of the most brilliant swimming season ever seen in this country.

EMERGENCY SWIMMERS.
If at any time you need a pair of gas pipes, perhaps to take off a gas tap that is not working well, and you have none at hand, you can always make a pair that will do the work for the moment, although they might not be just the thing for a gas fitter. Take a large pair of scissors, and you will find that where the handles join the blades they usually open out into a sort of oval. By putting a piece of newspaper or anything rough round the base of the gas burner you can place this open part of the handle of the scissors round it and then press the blades of the scissors together so as to get leverage enough to twist the burner loose. There are many little light jobs that can be done with a pair of pliers made out of a pair of scissors if you are careful to have something between the handle and the object, so as to prevent the scissors from slipping off.—New York Sun.

JIGGS DONAHUE, A GREAT 1ST SACKER

Asked to pick the greatest first sacker in the history of baseball, many fans would award the niche in the hall of fame to John A. Donahue, the mighty "Jiggs" of the Chicago White Sox. The great first baseman, who recently ended his days in an Ohio madhouse, was born in Springfield, Ohio, thirty-four years ago tomorrow, July 12, 1879. "Jiggs" so called because of his ability as a clog dancer, played with Nashville, Tenn., and several other minor league teams before he was admitted to the big show as a member of Connie Mack's Milwaukee Braves of the Infant American league.

His wonderful fielding ability made him one of the greatest figures in baseball while playing the initial pillar for the Chicago Americans. He was at best in 1906, when he established a record by accepting 1408 catches at first base, a record that is likely to stand for many years. Consequently, the White Sox, has always declared that "Jiggs" was the greatest of all first sackers. He was the hero of the world's series of 1906 between the two Chicago clubs. Donahue was one of nine brothers, all of whom were ball players, although "Jiggs" was easily the greatest of the bunch.

Donahue started his baseball career as a pitcher, and occasionally played right field. He was nothing as a twirler, even in the minors, and it is said that he was kept only because of his stick work, which is something unusual for a pitcher. Donahue was one of the best of the baseball players to have his whiskers amputated, and for some time after smooth faces had become the rule among the diamond pastimes he continued to sport a full facial regalia. Public opinion finally forced him to visit a barber and part with his beloved adornment. It is said that an accident, in which the whiskers became entangled in a mass of thorns, while he was going after the ball in the outfield of a southern baseball field, also had something to do with his decision to part with his whiskers.

ONE OF FORTUNE'S FAVORITES.
Lord Brackley is one of fortune's favorites. He has just been presented by the king, the Earl of Bessborough, with the handsome mansion and park known as Merton House, Roxborough. In the ordinary course of events Lord Brackley will one day come into possession of a handsome London residence, Bridgewater House, Grosvenor Hall, near Manchester, is also another handsome seat in possession of the family. He came into vast wealth at the expiration of the Bridgewater trust.

Great is education. Here is a St. James newspaper that makes a bold bid for English-speaking patriots, and it holds so in the following impressive terms that command attention: "The news of England was left the latest. In perfectly style and most exciting. Do a murder get commit we hear and tell of it. Do a night of do we publish it and it is borders of some. Staff has each one been college, and work like the Kipling and the Dickens. We circulate every town and exorbitant not for advertisements. Buy it. Buy it."

BAYNE GREATEST OF ALL COLLEGE BALL TWIRLERS

A few days ago a bronze tablet was unveiled at Franklin field during the Annual day exercises.

This tablet was in memory of a famous Penn athlete—Glarence S. Bayne. A rare and unusual tribute to a ball player, for twice on the diamond wonders Bayne made a record and reputation which is all grown in the memories of his classmates.

Back in 1892 the young collegian won a place on the University of Pennsylvania baseball team. It did not take Bayne long to convince his coach that he possessed unusual ability as a hurler. By causing 30 batters to fan in his first two games, he made a stir in college baseball. But 'twas when he best Yale in his fourth trial, holding the "Bulldogs" to four hits and whiffing 17 in time order, he became a sensation—a pitching wonder.

Bayne also best Princeton a little later, pitching an almost perfect game, one scratch single, the only slip that marred the perfect going. He followed this by fanning 19 of the Wesleyan collegians in a nine-inning contest. One sensational performance followed another until he was the most talked of pitcher in the land, and he is saying something for the great Carter of Yale, and the phenomenal Highlands, the big southpaw of Harvard, were at his zenith.

In short order offers from every "big" league club in the country came pouring in on the eager youngster who had upset all done in college baseball. In his last game of the season of 1892 he held the Boston Nationals to four hits and fanned ten men in eight innings.

In 1893 Bayne was in poor health and only worked in half a dozen games. However, he best Yale, Lafayette and Princeton. The last game he hurled was against Cornell. He braved the summer sun and heat and died June 20. Roy Thomas, the famous ball player of "big" league reputation, was a classmate and teammate.

THE LOCKED DOOR.
He led the day after the wedding. Proudly he led her up the front steps of Greengrove Castle, the proudly led her about the great halls, showed her through the spacious chambers of her new home, all proudly. He was a proud man. He had been a proud man ever since he was a boy in short hair. Finally they came to a door that was locked.

"This only, Marmalade," he said, "you may not enter. Baited this door from your mind. Behind it lurks disappointment, disappointment so bitter that I fear you would be unable to survive it."

THE LOCKED DOOR.

After an hour's search she found a great ray of light suspended from the door knob. "It must be the key!" she whispered fearfully. She fitted it in the lock. It turned. With a low but sweet moan she fell swooning at the threshold. Thus he found her when he returned for dinner 18 hours later. She eventually found her way out of the syphon, but he had no white.

Behind that door there was absolutely nothing.

PAUL PRY POLICE.

The German police have a consuming curiosity about the visitor. They are polite, but the curiosity must be satisfied, and it covers well high every point upon which information can be given, says Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick in "Home Life in Germany."

Before you have been in Germany a fortnight the police expect to know all about you. You have to give them your father's Christian and surname and tell them how he earned his living and where he was born; also your mother's Christian and maiden name and where she was born. You must declare your religion and maiden name and where your husband's Christian and surname, also where he was born and where you were last in Germany and how often you have been and why you have come now and what you are doing and how long you propose to stay.

A REAL HANDFUL.

In every sense of the term the four and a half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chester of 92 Townsend street, Sheffield, England, is somewhat of a handful to his proud parents.

He is already becoming a familiar figure in Sheffield streets, thanks to his remarkable proportions.

Although in the most energetic and playful temper, he can be distinctly otherwise when the occasion demands, and it was not surprising to learn that he was already creating profound respect towards him on the part of his playfellows.

The need for much respect will be understood when it is remembered that Master Chester is accustomed to take his exercise with 56 pound weights. Before he was two and a half years old he astonished his mother by toying with a 28 pound weight. A few weeks ago a visitor, who would turn the scale at 240 pounds, was unceremoniously pushed over by the playful little fellow. The doctors have, of course, been greatly interested in him, and after a searching examination—aided by X-ray apparatus—they pronounced him to be a thoroughly normal child, though probably the heaviest for his age in the country.

Four feet in height, scaling over 112 pounds, he measures nearly 10 inches round the chest, with proportions, sturdy limbs and remarkable muscular development.

ATHABASCA--HER RESOURCES AND STRATEGIC LOCATION

THE NATURAL METROPOLIS OF A SPLENDID EMPIRE

Athabasca, the Open Gateway to the Great North Country, Holds the Key to the Future Greatness in Her Hand

(By C. E. Nancivell, Secretary of Athabasca Board of Trade.)

In considering the future possibilities of any town or city, we must first deal with the location of that place with respect to the country immediately surrounding it and to the larger centers of trade. Athabasca would appear to be peculiarly well equipped with a location, one almost without equal in the Western Provinces. The mighty Athabasca River, which is the highway by which travel to the Peace River, McKenzie River, Lesser Slave Lake, and Lake Athabasca districts, takes a great bend southward to a point about 100 miles north of Edmonton, and at this most southern point of the bend is located the "Gateway City" of Athabasca. Many thousands of miles of waterways join hands with the railways to provide thorough transportation to the last and best west, thus making Athabasca a distributing point, and the only "Inland Port" in the Province of Alberta.

Milling timber, the most necessary product to the upbuilding of the Western towns and cities, is found along the banks of the Athabasca River in inexhaustible quantities. The low cost of floating the timber down the river to the distributing point, Athabasca, owing to the absence of obstacles in the shape of falls or

DESTINED TO BECOME GREAT RAILWAY CENTRE.

Construction Already Provided for Guaranteeing Athabasca Access to Great Canadian Territory.

The peculiar geographical location of this coming city is such as to make it the natural and only logical distributing point for all of the northern half of the province of Alberta. The fact is responsible for the large number of railway lines which are either actually in course of construction with Athabasca as the destination or are chartered or proposed. The C. N. R. is now in operation from Edmonton and the east is being built into the Peace River country at Peace River Crossing. The same company are now constructing a line from North Battleford to Athabasca which will connect this city directly with Winnipeg and the east. The C. P. R. line from Wilkie to Athabasca is being constructed as rapidly as possible. The C. N. R. has been chartered from Athabasca to Ft. McMurray to the north and Lac La Biche to the north-east, and the bonds of these extensions are guaranteed by the government. The Trans-Pacific-McKenzie River and Hudson's Bay Railway is also chartered from this point. In a few years all these railways and very probably more will be in operation, but even before these railways are built Athabasca is now a great distributing point on account of the water transportation in the north, which is fully described elsewhere in this issue.

PULP MILLS WILL ADD TO ATHABASCA'S PROSPERITY

That Athabasca is destined to become the greatest pulpwood manufacturing centre in all the Canadian west is the opinion of Mr. James Maloney, of Vancouver, one of the best known lumber authorities in this country, who has just returned from an extensive trip covering all the great timber regions to the north and west of this point. Mr. Maloney's report merely corroborates the statements of all other timber men who have examined this section, and shows that the coast of the Pacific is the timber region to this point is practically all, while Athabasca's location is such as to make her the logical and best distributing point on account of her excellent facilities for shipping to all points to the south and west. There is always a big demand for the products of her pulp mills. It is pointed out by Mr. Maloney that the pulp wood supply in the north is practically all in the upper Athabasca region. He explained that, but that the stands are so heavily logged that the river can be easily floated down.

WATER COURSES FURNISH EASY TRADE ARTERIES

Tourists and Pleasure Seekers Coming in Larger Numbers Each Year

The water routes of the north are largely responsible for the immense amount of trade at Athabasca, which has made this point one of the most favorable locations for retailers, traders and others interested in the business of Northern Alberta. All the goods going into or coming from this country must pass through Athabasca. The Hudson's Bay Company and the Northern Transportation Company, operating steamboats on the Athabasca River, Lesser Slave River and Lesser Slave Lake, carrying the goods for the settlers and traders by the river, the Peace River country. The Peace River line is operated by the Hudson's Bay Company and the Peace River Trading & Land Company. Hundreds of boats are annually floated down the Athabasca loaded with goods intended for points as far north as the Arctic Ocean. These goods are met at Ft. McMurray by Hudson's Bay Company and Northern Transportation Company steamers which ply on Lake Athabasca and on the McKenzie River for more than 1800 miles. Navigation on this river is open from April 15th until October 15th of each year and on the lakes from about June 1st to November 1st. Thousands of tons of merchandise and many hundreds of passengers are transported to the various points of the north, and in the fall these boats return laden with furs to the values of several million dollars.

Tourists and pleasure seekers are coming in larger and larger numbers with each succeeding year, and it is now possible for one to make a trip to the Arctic Ocean from Athabasca traveling practically all the way in the best of state in steamers provided with every modern convenience. This trip can be made in connection with the Canadian Northern Railway, the first of its kind in the world, and is now being made a series of excursions into the far north which are proving of becoming very popular with the travelers and pleasure seekers who appreciate the many beauties of this route.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS ON AMBITIOUS SCALE.

Progressive Men in Charge of Municipal Affairs are in Providing Facilities

As soon as the town of Athabasca received a charter from the provincial government, steps were taken to provide for improvements in the shape of water, sewer, sidewalks, graded streets, etc. The decision was reached to decide on debentures to the extent of $80,000 for a waterworks system and this was passed without a dissenting vote. This plan is now a practical one and will provide for the needs of the town for many years to come. A sewerage system will be installed at once and will be constructed along the same comprehensive lines as the waterworks with an eye to the future requirements. Over $5000 has been expended in grading and improving the streets to date and other improvements are projected in the near future.

An isolation hospital has been provided and a site purchased for a new town hall which will shortly be erected. The men in charge of affairs at Athabasca are of the progressive type and they are well supported by the citizens of the town as is shown by the vote on the waterworks bonds.

BOAT BUILDING BEST OF ATHABASCA'S ACTIVITIES.

Craft to Fly the Northern Waters Furthest East, for Profitable Industry to Athabasca.

One of the largest if not the largest of the industries at Athabasca at the present time is that of Boat building. This point is the starting place for all the traders, trappers, prospectors, and settlers in the entire northern half of the Province of Alberta as well as for all the vast stretch of country reaching hundreds of miles to the North to the Arctic Ocean. Every year hundreds of boats are constructed at Athabasca and floated down to Ft. McMurray and other points on the river, where they are torn down and the lumber used in building houses. This each year a large number of boats must be built and this has given rise to the industry, which furnishes employment to a large number of men. This year more than 500 boats will be constructed, each of which will carry its ton or more of freight into the North Country. A good many of these have already sailed but it will be well September that all will be completed and this will mean that the men employed on this work will have found a most important throughout the summer.

RESOURCES OF NORTH EXTENSIVE AND VARIED

Agriculture, Minerals, Timber, Fish, Coal, Gas, Tar, Oil and Ochre Among the Natural Wealth of the New Empire Beyond the Athabasca

(By A. L. Lewis, President Athabasca Board of Trade.)

It has not been many years since the wealth of the North Country lies in its minerals. For many years it has been known that gas and oil existed in paying quantities along the Athabasca River and on the shores of Lake Athabasca, but it was not until very recently that any steps were taken to develop these resources. At the present time, however, there is much activity at different points along the Athabasca and it is only a matter of a very short time now until these rich stores and oil fields will be producing and adding to the commerce of the Athabasca. Vast deposits of lime, stone, sandstone and other building materials are known to exist in paying quantities, especially in the vicinity of the Grand Rapids, and it has been estimated by well known and reliable authorities that there is sufficient asphaltum of excellent quality in the immediate vicinity of Athabasca, there being several Canadian cities for many generations to come. Coal is also found in various localities, especially in the Peace River District and in the vicinity of Lesser Slave Lake. In the immediate vicinity of Athabasca, there have been some very recent discoveries of coal which make it seem practically certain that deposits of an excellent quality exist in large quantities.

EDUCATION WELL PROVIDED FOR IN ATHABASCA TODAY

Churches, Missions and Educational Institutions on a Par with Other Settlements Elsewhere.

Athabasca is well provided with school and church facilities. Long before the white man reached the opportunities of the Northwest the Anglican and Roman Catholic Churches opened missions here, and schools were conducted by both institutions. With the advent of the settlers the first public schools were opened and the continual influx of new population has made a steady tax on the accumulation of the building, but the residents of Athabasca have always met the emergency, providing both schools and churches as soon as they were needed. There are at the present time two churches in the town of Athabasca and six in the vicinity. A new $10,000 school building is now in course of erection and will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1913. The temporary school now on the same site on Fleming Street at the corner of Wood Street will have for manual training and domestic science as soon as the new building is ready for occupancy. A forest reserve has been established by the Dominion Government on the North Shore of Lesser Slave Lake.

The fishing industry promises to become of the largest in a very few years as the better transportation facilities are provided so as to open up the markets of the west to the fisheries all year of the country. Whitefish of great quality are found in Lake Athabasca, Lac La Biche, Lesser Slave Lake and all the numerous smaller lakes of this region, but owing to the lack of summer transportation fishing is carried on only in the winter months, when many carloads of whitefish are shipped from Athabasca to the different parts of the Canadian cities. Probably the greatest source of

The Athabasca Board of Trade, realizing the many advantages which are offered here to the retailer, wholesaler and manufacturer as well as the man of enterprise and initiative in any line of endeavor, has undertaken to disseminate information in regard to the town and the opportunities, and to persuade those men and concerns who are seeking locations in the Canadian west, to come to the "Gateway City." It is not the intention of the industrial committee to recommend Athabasca as a favored location for any and every business, but rather to encourage only those particular establishments which it is certain will prove profitable if conducted along business methods.

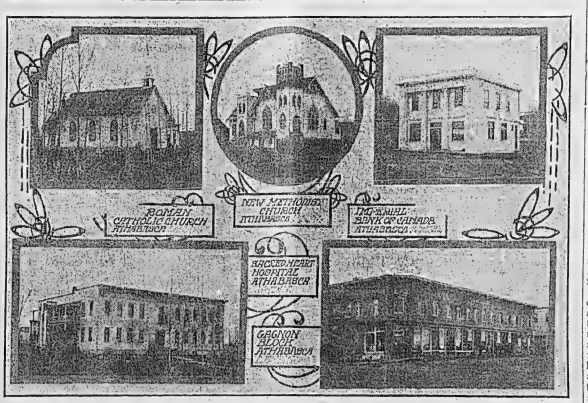

The Board of Trade is especially anxious to secure manufacturers in Athabasca and is prepared to offer very interesting inducements in the shape of long time leases at a nominal rental and at the best of all for a natural gas at a very low rate. The location (deposits of timber which are located on Athabasca River above this town offer a most highly satisfactory location to the manufacturer of lumber, and already there are two saw mills in operation here and others negotiating for locations. There is a ready market

WATER POWER OF NORTH BIG ASSET TO ATHABASCA

Hundreds of Thousands of Horse Power Will Produce Many Lush Industries

In reviewing the resources of the North we must also take into consideration the wonderful possibilities which exist in the way of waterpower which furnishes at the same time the most direct and most convenient means of supplying power to manufacturers. The Athabasca River, which flows through the north country has never been accurately measured, but it is known that the volume of water is enormous. The Peace River, at the Grand Rapids on the Lesser Slave Lake, at Fort Smith and other points is capable of producing hundreds of thousands of horse power and supplying energy for turning the wheels of many of the industries which will turn the natural wealth of this great empire into products for the markets of the world and provide employment for many hundreds of men and women who will find homes and business in Athabasca and the surrounding north land. That all these enterprises will add to the prestige of Athabasca is a fact which all who understand her commanding location as the head of three thousand miles of natural water ways and the coming railway centre of the North land.

The extent and character of the building operations of the past year at Athabasca is the best evidence of the present development of the "Gateway City" and in the certainty of her place with modern structures.

AVERAGES OF TEAMS IN EDMONTON CRICKET LGE.

These Batting and Bowling Averages are Incomplete Because Secretaries of the Clubs Fail to Send Scores to League Secretary—Three Clubs Are Included.

The batting averages of the Edmonton Cricket League are not complete owing to the failure of the secretaries of many of the clubs to supply the league secretary with their scores. However, the averages which are compiled from the scores which do reach the secretary provide some interesting material.

In the batting only those playing four or more innings and with a better average than ten are included. In the bowling the minimum number of wickets taken is 10.

It is unfortunate for the league in a way that the club secretaries have been neglected to send their scores to the league secretary, for it makes the work of that official much more difficult. It also is unsatisfactory to both players and public. The publishing of incomplete averages is never satisfactory. It is disappointing to the players and their friends whose averages are not included. It is not satisfactory to the players whose averages are included because some of those who are not included may be better than they.

The secretaries of the Edmonton Cricket Club, the Strathcona Cricket Club, and the 19th Dragons have supplied their scores. However, the secretary has done his best and the following averages have been compiled:

Batting: At least four innings with minimum average of 10.
Bowling: Minimum number of wickets taken 10.

Scottish Proposal To Widen Field Is Beaten

International Board Refused to Add Five Yards to Width of Soccer Fields of England—English Suggestion Met With Approval—Sunderland Made Big Money.

At a meeting of the International Board held at Portrush in Ireland recently a proposal by the Scottish Association to increase the width of the field of play from 50 to 55 yards gave rise to a long discussion, and it was decided to reject the proposal.

Scotland also proposed that in Law VI, there should be two players in the number of kicking, throwing or as played is offside, instead of as at present. This was also rejected. The Football Association of England proposed that the goalkeeper should only handle the ball inside the goal line, and this was adopted. Another English proposal, that when a free-kick is being awarded, the kickers' opponents shall not approach within ten yards of the ball until the kick is taken, unless there is standing on their own goal line, was agreed to. $60,500 From English Cup. The English Association of Football Clubs just issued a record.

FOUR-OARED RACE WILL NO LONGER BE ON PROGRAM

One of the Races at Poughkeepsie Will Be Dropped Henceforward.

New York, July 12.—Morton G. Bogus, chairman of the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association, has announced that the race for four-oared crews will be dropped from the program of the annual regatta at Poughkeepsie. The reason given was that the race was not popular with the spectators and that it was too slow.

The four-oared race was first included in the program of the Poughkeepsie regatta in 1899, when Cornell and Pennsylvania entered crews. The next year Columbia was in the race and it had been an annual feature of the regatta since then.

Brooklyn, July 12.—Ralph B. Morton, of the Canadian Club and British Columbia, has been elected international manager for the historic international canoe trophy race this afternoon. He has been elected to the position by the contest by Leo Freid, defender of the cup, but he also was disqualified for fouling at the first windward mark. The disqualification was not announced by the results committee until after the race had been decided. Morton, however, reported the foul at the end of the first round.

for the glove. Doolan would not take a hundred dollars for it. Doolan credits this ragged glove for the base hits he kills off every day. The centre of the glove is the same thing a doughnut surrounds. The covering is matted and the lining frayed. Back of the hole Doolan's hand is a mess. It is not surprising to discover something unusual about Doolan's glove. The observer might suppose he was equipped with a set to watch him cut down the liners, hopping rounders and short-field flies. Although not a slagger, Doolan is a fixture with the Phillies. No 300 hitter could drive him off the team unless he was a fielding marvel as well. If he were hitting only 100, Doolan would still be playing, because of his "impossible" matty ability to do the "impossible" between second and third.

SPORT COMMENT

Jupiter Pluvius refused the Edmonton ball team the opportunity to win a game yesterday.

All the trouble in the Western Canada league seems to have been successfully brought to a close. Since the last outbreak the league has been going its way smoothly and according to schedule. Temporarily, at least, President Gray has nothing to fear.

Manager Redmond is making desperate efforts to make out of the Blues a winning team. His task seems to be a difficult one. For several years the Edmonton ball team has consisted of material second to none in the league. It is four years now since Edmonton was fighting for the pennant. However, it is apparent that Redmond is making a determined effort, and the fans should be with him.

In the meantime Regina, Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat are dodging in and out of first place; chasing each other around the pennant pole all the time. The long distance, Saskatoon seems to be irretrievably in last place. They have made a sorry show of things, of course it could scarcely be expected that they would show the way they exhibited at the start of the season right through. As a matter of fact, the division of the league came just at the right time for them. Their winning streak was nearing a conclusion when the big bust up took place. Had the race continued without the division, Saskatoon would be able to fall, although it is doubtful even playing as badly as they are now that they could be chased out of the pennant position.

The city league teams seem to be fairly prosperous. In the absence of the professional team they are able to acquire the use of good grounds to their game. If they were able to play all their games on Diamond Park they would play much better games.

Today is going to be a fairly busy day in the sporting world of Edmonton. In the first place, athletic contests are going to be held. In the afternoon the contest between the Orange society and in connection with their 12th of July celebration. Then the city league plays a double-header at Diamond Park, starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and continuing right through. The first game will, however, be brought to a conclusion before 4 o'clock. Then in the evening the two picked soccer teams from which will be chosen the all-star team to play Calgary, play a trial match. Every class of sport fan will be interested in some part of the proceedings of the day.

Back O'Brien, New York's record acquisition, was badly beaten when he ran up against Chicago yesterday. The score was 11-1 and in all Chicago gathered 17 hits. Of course, the ex-Bostonite was dragged before that many were secured.

The secretary of the Edmonton cricket league is doing his best to compelling the "batting and bowling averages" of the league under the conditions which exist. It is almost impossible for him to do. The secretaries of only five of the clubs have turned in their scores so that the averages which appear elsewhere in the sport section of the Capital cover only those three teams. Doolan has been unfortunate in the club and the club secretaries should see to it that their scores are in the hands of the secretary of the league for all games.

The betting and fielding averages of the Western Canada baseball league will be issued from the office of the secretary of the league. They will cover the first division of the schedule only. The secretary of the league has been working on them since the close of the first season and they are now almost completed.

The following statement made by Lash Cross before his fight with Bud Anderson, is very interesting.

"Lash Cross was asked if he thought Willie Ritchie would beat Joe Anderson. "If Willie would beat him, they say he has every thing, and every one knows I haven't any class." "How would you fight with Anderson?" "Oh, well, how can you tell about a fight," he said. "Every one in the world can lick Macie by Baldwin but me and he looks me. Tommy Murphy can lick him, but me. He can lick

BAN JOHNSON, HABITUAL TROUBLE MAKER, IS BUSY

No Reason for His Interference With Manager Birmingham of Cleveland Other Than His Customary Bellicose Propensities Which Have Frequently Been Evidenced.

(By W. J. Macbeth.)

New York, July 12.—Ban Johnson used to be a real Measles to his American league club. He led them out of the wilderness of the war days and into the era of financial milk and honey. But like the distressed Duke of York with his stored-up thousands men having marched his forces up the hill, the big czar gives evidence of intention to march them down again.

The latest outbreak of the American league outbreak was directed against Joe Birmingham, manager of the Cleveland club. Mr. Johnson intimated that in his opinion Birmingham was no fit person to be in charge of an American league club. Whatever prompted the attack, it represented very ill-considered action. Birmingham is a man who is a good manager and a good player. He is a man who is a good manager and a good player. He is a man who is a good manager and a good player.

Cleveland fans are not likely to be in a mood to break the official interference of even the mighty Johnson with a man who is making good in his opinion. Birmingham unfortunately has been the victim of the official interference of even the mighty Johnson with a man who is making good in his opinion. Birmingham unfortunately has been the victim of the official interference of even the mighty Johnson with a man who is making good in his opinion.

A Peculiar Penchant.

For some reason Mr. Johnson appears to have a penchant for picking on "live wires" and endorsing "dead ones." His middle-class disposition has "studied" him. Half of the American league clubs. He is about as popular in St. Louis as scarlet fever in a nursery. For years and years he was openly accused in the Mound City, of trying to drive John Hedger out of the league. Hedger actually negotiated a sale. But the prospective buyers failed to make good the first day. There are those in New York who had enough to accuse Johnson of exterminating Hedger out of the league. For some reason Mr. Johnson appears to have a penchant for picking on "live wires" and endorsing "dead ones."

Done Much Good.

There is no doubt that Mr. Johnson has been a great factor toward putting organized baseball on a sound and unshakable basis. For that he deserves due credit. He has also succeeded at last in impressing upon Charles B. F. Johnson, the National League executive, the importance of taking the same sort of policy that was followed by the American league. Over in the west, where the American league is very weak, and where Ban is a powerful figure, he has a new league, independent of organized baseball, has sprung into existence. It is a league which is struggling very, certainly it has had from the start the support of the press, and it has been successful. And in the (Continued on Second Sport Page.)

HOOD OF CAR IS LOCKED FOR ALL OF LENGTHY TOUR

Pathfinder Car in Indiana-Pacific Tour will Not be Opened Until it Reaches Frisco

Just before the Pathfinder car in the Indiana-Pacific tour took its start on line at the start from Indianapolis July 1st, Bob Spidee, driver, called on Sup't. of Police Hyland at the Police station where the Indianapolis "Iron Man" turned the key in the locks that sealed the hood of "Old Hauler Bonnet" for the long grand across the continent.

The key was mailed to Governor Brown, Johnson of California, who will be the first to raise the hood of the Pathfinder on its arrival at the Pacific, the Westermann point in the course of the Indiana makers' tour.

The attempt is all the more noteworthy because the Pathfinder "Ap" the name car that was used by the A.A.A. and U.S. Government in the survey of three new transcontinental routes last summer in 147 days total elapsed time.

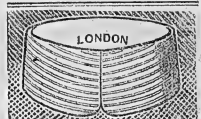

The car will be driven by Bob Spidee, a famous contest driver who is well known throughout the West and South-west.

In spite of its great mileage to date, Spidee says the car is capable of negotiating the 3,000 mile journey with a sealed bonnet with an ordinarily good motor.

The only danger to be encountered is the change of altitude, which will test the flexibility and soundness of the motor to the limit. Other difficulties will be in climbing stiff grades, with the constant risk of fouling spare places. One big point in his favor is that all moving parts on the Pathfinder motor are disassembled.

Once through the Great Salt Desert, Spidee expects to have easy sailing. Motor fans who are universally skeptical over the ability of any car to turn this trick are watching its progress with new interest.

In a way, and in some cities, money talks. But it has never talked in congressional circles so loudly as represented in curiose gossip. Washington Star.

ALBERTA ROADS ARE IMPROVING MORE RAPIDLY

Condition Highways Through-out Province Getting Better During Past Few Years

"The condition of the roads throughout Western Canada is not such as to encourage tourists to make a trip through that country," was the statement made in an eastern paper recently, speaking of a proposed tour through the western states. It had been intended that the tourists would make a side expedition into Canada, but apparently were discouraged by the reports of bad roads.

Local tourists say that the statement is only partly correct. In the neighborhood of Edmonton there are plenty of good roads with the best of roads. However in the eastern part of the province and it is said that even between here and Calgary there are stretches of road over which it is nearly impossible to travel.

At the same time tourists who have toured this country during the past two or three years say that there has been a great improvement in that line. The roads are now better made and more direct. There are roads which one can follow and arrive somewhere instead of as a few years ago one would start on a road and keep on travelling indefinitely getting nowhere.

Automobile clubs formed in all the cities in the west are using their influence to have roads improved, and they are succeeding. In Saskatchewan auto clubs in Regina, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, and many of the smaller towns in the province are planning extensive tours.

Such tours always have a beneficial effect. They draw the attention of the proper authorities to road conditions which are not only bad, but which when noticed are corrected.

Thus it is that as the country is developed the conditions which brought upon the automobile tourist many an unpleasant adventure are passing. Only two or at most three years ago it was no uncommon thing for auto travelers to find themselves stuck in a mudhole in the middle of the night, or even in a farmhouse, and under the necessity of spending a night or possibly two nights there before getting their machine on the road again and running. At the same time there is plenty of room for improvement in the road yet, and until they are in better shape than at present Western Canada will not see very many organized auto tours.

SPECIAL WAVERLEY ELECTRIC TO COME.

Mr. Inglis has a New Electric Built Along Lines Planned by Himself, Coming to Edmonton

Mr. W. C. Inglis, of the firm of Inglis, McQuinn and Thomas, is expecting his new "Special Waverley Electric" in a few days. The car has been especially constructed for him according to the plans and specifications supplied by him. The upholstery for the machine was ordered from Europe.

The car is being fitted with every device for comfort, ease of running, and safety and will doubtless be one of the finest electric in Western Canada. The factory has just completed the building of the car, and it has already been shipped.

The car will arrive at the garage of the Scott Motor Company who are at present displaying a silent Waverley in their showrooms.

New Models Late.
While the 1914 models are scheduled to be out early in August, it is doubtful if they will be on the market in Edmonton until early fall, and year, according to dealers in the city, it was more like November when the new models arrived, and this year they expect it will be the same.

Most dealers are awaiting anxiously the arrival of the new models. In the greater number of makes there are it is said a number of improvements which will greatly increase the ease of running and the comfort of the passengers.

FIRST AUTO DAILY IS NOW PUBLISHED

Glacier Park Blazer is Name of New Publication Designed to Interest Motor Owners

"The 'Glacier Park Blazer' makes its bow without any apology. It is the first daily Automobile Newspaper ever printed on a railway train. It will have a definite existence. Nine issues will be printed, one each day, during the A.A.A. national automobile tour from Minneapolis, Minn., to Glacier National Park. The Farewell Edition will come off the press when the tour ends at Glacier Park station, Mont., July 19, 1913, and the auto entered in the contest have travelled 1,929 miles, through three states. The plant of this newspaper is installed in a modern, 25-hp. dynamo-horsepower car of the Great Northern Railway's hotel train which is accompanying the automobile tour. The plant is a complete mechanical force, the newspaper plant includes a line composing outfit, a cylinder press and an engraving outfit. This press is the working model of the Western patent, loaned to us by the interior. The staff photographer's daily story of the tour will be told with half-tones turned out in our engraving plant by experts from the Buchheiser Engraving Company of St. Paul. The composing room was installed by the McCall-Varnier Company, St. Paul, which owns it, as does the Buchheiser-Mears Company, the engraving department. A four horse-power motor attached to the car dynamo furnishes the power. The Great Northern Railway owns this, as well as the car in which the paper is published. Thus, it will be seen, the publication is cooperative.

We state these facts in compliance with the Federal Law compelling newspaper publishers to make sworn statements so the public may know who are the real owners of the various publications in the United States.

The story begins of the paper as keeping with the high plane of the mechanical force, the car's contributing editors being the correspondents of various automobile publications and daily newspapers accompanying the tour.

NEW MANAGER AT SCOTT'S IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Says His Business is Good and is Going to Continue the Best in Alberta

Mr. Pitts, the new manager of the Scott Motor Company, started in on July 1st with his sleeves rolled up and his mouth open, bristling with determination to do the best automobile business in Alberta or know the reason why, as he expresses it.

While business is generally quiet in the automobile business as well as in other lines, Mr. Pitts' leader's "Red Devil," a Kissel-50 that goes whooping down Jasper Avenue at 70 miles an hour when necessary, and the "Black Maria" of the police department. It is the latest machine of this breed to reach the city.

However, Mr. Pitts' enterprise is not limited to the second street bakers. The city of Edmonton is using two other kind of "Red Devils," a Kissel-50 that goes whooping down Jasper Avenue at 70 miles an hour when necessary, and the "Black Maria" of the police department. It is the latest machine of this breed to reach the city.

IS MAKING A THROUGH TRIP TO COAST CITIES

Mr. Randall of Winnipeg Arrived in Edmonton on his Way to Vancouver Doing Entire Journey by Automobile—The First Peering in City of Edmonton.

Completing the first leg of his 3,000 mile automobile trip Mr. S. W. Randall, of Winnipeg, arrived in Edmonton on Monday with his car, a Peerless, badly damaged by the rough roads in Saskatchewan and eastern Alberta. Mr. Randall is going through to Vancouver from the British Columbia metropolis. He may continue down the Pacific coast, if everything goes as he hopes, and thence return to Winnipeg through the States.

The car in which Mr. Randall is making the trip is a Peerless, incidentally it is the first Peerless ever in the city of Edmonton. Immediately upon reaching Edmonton the car was placed in the Imperial garage on Rice street, where it is being repaired. Fortunately Mr. Greenleaf had a man who is familiar with the Peerless and the repairs are progressing rapidly. Mr. Randall states that considering the condition of the roads the car stood the trip fairly well. While it is badly shaken, there is nothing seriously wrong with it.

As soon as the machine is again in condition Mr. Randall will continue his trip to Calgary, stay there a few days and then start on the hardest lap of his journey. The road over the mountains is one of the heaviest on the American continent there being so many hills to climb. Some of the grades are so steep that it is almost impossible to bring a car bearing a load up them.

May Go Farther.
If the machine stands the test of the mountainous trip all right Mr. Randall may continue down the Pacific coast to San Francisco, cross the south western states and come north along the Mississippi valley to Winnipeg, making thereby a trip nearly 8,000 miles long. Mr. Randall has frequently made long tours in the Peerless throughout Western Canada over some of the worst roads in the world. In places through the west the roads are fairly good, Mr. Randall says, but in other places it is almost impossible to get through.

He Got Stuck.
One place, this side of Saskatoon, he got stuck and had to walk some miles to pull him out of an unexpected mud-hole. The fact he did get was called in, who talked an English, and who wanted to pull the car out sideways because his oxen could get better footing on the side of the alleged road.

Another place near Lloydminster he got lost. Not very seriously lost, for

Studebaker

When the first Studebaker "35" arrived in town this Spring it was said that it was impossible to build a car with full floating axle, Electric Starter and Electric Lights for $1700, and although they looked good, "they wouldn't stand up."

This was in February—now it's July and the number of Studebakers on the Street is an instance that the Public didn't believe Studebaker would build a car that wasn't worth the money.

Now it's almost half a year since the first of these History Makers arrived—the oldest one has travelled more than 4000 miles and runs better than when it arrived, and has cost the owner nothing but "Gas" and oil, and not much of that. This gives the lie to the "won't stand up" knock.

M. de Courbent solves the difficulty by sealing his rider on a wooden horse. The object of this curious experiment is to give the equestrian a good seat. If the stick is well ridden the body and hands are left for the "mule art."

The inventor of the system claims that it indicates the proper grip of the thighs, gives security of seat, and, at the same time, exercises the mobility necessary for boxing. It is two lessons in different arts at the same time.

ANTIDOTE HANDY.
The woman was the author of a book that had been published at her request with wide margins and occasional blank pages for friends and additional remarks. Often she had pressed a wish to see an old copy of the book and find out to what the blank spaces had been put. One day, in a second-hand book store her husband unearthed an old volume. Noticing that it had been annotated freely, he bought it. After a day or two he said: "How about the notes in that book?" Were they interesting?

"No," she said easily; "they didn't amount to anything."

When he put a chance he looked through the book himself. Every note of the book contained was a remedy for dyspepsia.—New York Times.

CRYSTAL LODGE

Anderson & Pomeroy, Proprietors.

A favorable stopping place in Athabasca for those who appreciate high class accommodation at reasonable rates is the Crystal Lodge nursing home, conducted by Messrs. Anderson and Pomeroy. This house is centrally located and is a two story and basement building, constructed in 1912 along modern lines. All rooms are nicely heated, lighted and ventilated, and are cleanly and comfortably furnished with a view to the convenience of guests, there being accommodation for upwards of 75 people. Messrs. Anderson and Pomeroy are amiable and genial hosts and all who are stopping with them are made to feel at home. The Crystal Lodge has in a year's time come to be known as a popular headquarters and as a consequence of the excellent rooms and superior attention which all guests receive has been forced to occupy practically all the time.

MORE SCHOOLS NEEDED.

Medicine Hat, Alta., July 12.—The school population of Medicine Hat is increasing at such a rate that the school board is put to its wits' end to supply the needed accommodation fast enough. Only a few days ago a contract was awarded for the construction of two cottage schools, which will be erected on the north side of the river, which it is expected will be a great convenience to families living in that fast-growing district and at the same time relieve the congestion in the several schools in the main portion of the city.

FOR NEW FIREHALLS.

Medicine Hat, Alta., July 12.—Two new contracts were let here the other day for new fire halls to Sacrider and Turner, local builders, their tenders being the lowest of five submitted for the work. The main fire headquarters, the present quarters in the city hall having been outgrown, will be located on a site secured by the city at West Allowance and West Toronto street, while the No. 2 station will be built at East Road Allowance and Dominion street, which is in the lower part of the city. The two new stations will cost $28,440.

GAS NEAR SASKATOON.

Saskatoon, Sask., July 12.—Simultaneously with the city commissioners' decision to investigate natural gas prospects in the Saskatoon district, comes the announcement of a find of gas upon the farm of August Kelmel, 13 miles from the city of Saskatoon. The farmer was digging a well a few days ago, and endeavored to blast a boulder at a depth of 55 feet, but the heat was so intense that it exploded the fuse each time Mr. Kelmel tried to blast. A rush of what is thought to be natural gas stopped the well-boring operations, and the "find" was immediately reported to the city commissioners, who are investigating.

HOW RUSKIN RE-WROTE. For writers or would-be writers who think that to exhibit any sort of merit they should be able to "dash off" page after page of matter in practically the form in which it should remain, there is instruction and encouragement in the original manuscript of Ruskin now offered for sale. It appears that Ruskin, in the vigor of his mental powers, was by no means dainty. Undoubtedly he yielded himself to the leading of genius, but he seems to have made a practice of leading genius laboriously back over the path that had been taken.

In comment on some of the pages of the manuscript now on exhibition, which are said to be the last thought by collectors or institutions. It is said that they are written in a fine, flowing hand, but that they are crossed and re-crossed with corrections, perhaps in hour—perhaps a forenoon—before they were passed over to printer. Even when the book came back from the printer he made considerable alterations in this text.
